Best Workplaces for Commuters

For the third year in a row, Intel is ranked tops on the list of commuter-friendly companies to work for as compiled by the Environmental Protection Agency and Department of Transportation. An astounding 40% of the Intel workforce works from home, thus reducing traffic, pollution, and the need for office space.

The top-20 list is clearly dominated by tech companies, particularly those based on the west coast. If working for Intel isn't an option for you, you may want to check out Microsoft, Google, Oracle, QUALCOMM, or Yahoo.
